TE DEUM

The Te Deum will be solemnly intoned at 11:00am on Sunday in thanksgiving for the election of the Holy Father.

WE praise Thee, O God; we acknowledge Thee to be Our Lord. Thee, the Father everlasting, all the earth doth worship. To Thee all Angels; to Thee the Heavens and all the powers. To Thee the Cherubim and Seraphim continually cry: Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of hosts. Heaven and earth are full of the majesty of Thy glory.

The glorious choir of the Apostles praises Thee.
The admirable company of Prophets praises Thee.
The White-robed army of the Martyrs praises Thee.
Thee, the holy Church throughout the world doth confess:
The Father of infinite majesty; Thine adorable, true, and only Son; Also, the Holy Spirit, the Comforter. Thou, O Christ, art the King of glory. Thou art the everlasting Son of the Father.

Thou, having taken upon Thee to deliver man, didst not disdain the Virgin's womb. Thou, having overcome the sting of death, hast opened to believers the Kingdom of Heaven. Thou sittest at the right hand of God, in the glory of the Father. Thou, we believe, art the judge to come.

We beseech Thee, therefore, to help Thy servants, whom Thou hast redeemed with Thy Precious Blood. Make them to be numbered with Thy Saints in glory everlasting. O Lord save Thy people and bless Thine inheritance. And govern them, and exalt them forever.

Day by day we bless Thee. And we praise Thy name forever; yea, forever and ever. Vouchsafe, O Lord, this day, to keep us from sin. Have mercy on us. O Lord, have mercy on us. Let Thy mercy, O Lord, be upon us, as we have trusted in Thee. In Thee, O Lord, have I trusted; let me not be confounded forever. Blessed art thou, O Lord, the God of our Fathers. And worthy to be praised and glorified forever. Let us bless the Father and the Son, with the Holy Spirit. Let us praise and magnify Him forever.

Of your charity, pray for the repose of the soul of

Books Woof I Have Read by Pippo

This week, I read 'Citizens: A Chronicle of the French Revolution', by Simon Schama. As regular readers will recall, this book received an honourable mention some weeks ago when I reviewed Tom Holland's book, 'Rubicon'. 'Citizens' is a substantial work which looks in some considerable detail at the causes of the French Revolution, before charting events up to the fall of Maximillian Robespierre at the end of July 1794. In so doing, Schama up-ends much of what we think we know of the French Revolution. Generally speaking, it is seen in terms of an intellectual middle-class leading a starving population of peasants to overthrow a corrupt, despotic and out-of-touch regime in the name of liberty, equality and fraternity.

The realities were rather different. First, and much to my surprise, the revolution actually began with (and was consequently led by) members of the ruling elite - at least before it got out of control. Second, far from being a despot, Louis XVI was inclined much more towards moderation and reform than his predecessors. Third, many of the ordinary people of France (outside Paris, and in the countryside especially), were outraged at the way in which the Revolutionary government treated their king and the Church.

One of the most striking features of this book, however, is the way in which Schama paints a picture of a society which got out of control very quickly. Put simply, no-one was safe. Anyone could be accused of being a counter-revolutionary at any time; justice became arbitrary; and countless innocents were killed, whether by means of judicial murder or by mob violence. As Schama himself wrote, 'violence ... was not just an unfortunate side effect ... it was the Revolution's source of collective energy.'

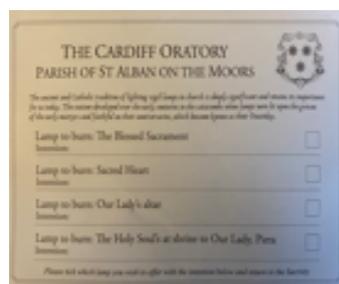

Of course, when a country experiences a revolution or civil war, some violence is almost inevitable. However, in the case of the French Revolution, the sheer scale of the blood-letting - together with the arbitrary nature of the violence - makes it particularly repellent.

And what did it all achieve? Given that the Revolutionary regime proved to be even more despotic than the one it replaced, and given that it soon gave way to the dictatorship of Napoleon Bonaparte, followed by the eventual restoration of the Bourbon dynasty in 1814, it is difficult to see that it achieved very much at all. It certainly did not live-up to its high-sounding ideals. Not for the squeamish, this is an excellent book nonetheless, and one I would not hesitate to recommend.

NEW Vigil Lamp Envelopes

A new supply of vigil lamp envelopes for those wishing to dedicate a votive lamps for their loved ones or their own intentions have arrived.

The Rt. Hon. The Lord Mayor of Cardiff Councillor Lady Helen Lloyd Jones will open the new social engagement centre at St Alban's Catholic Primary prior to it being blessed by the Parish Priest this Friday 16th May at 11:15am.

All Parishioners and Friends are warmly invited to join in this wonderful celebration. Please arrive for 11:00am.

Speaking at her inauguration, the Lord Mayor said: "It's a huge honour to be a Lord Mayor. This role is not about the person; it is about the amount of joy we give when we visit groups who quietly get on with doing extraordinary things. They are so pleased to show us what they do and to be appreciated. In a world that wakes us up every morning to the latest gloom and doom, it is so life-affirming to meet so many people who are doing their bit to make this world a safer, happier place, and they deserve our recognition. We may not be the biggest city, or the richest, or the oldest, but we have recently been voted the nicest city, the place where we are most likely to do kind things for our neighbours. The friendly city, Cardiff, the capital city of Wales, long may we keep it so."

Hospital Chaplaincy: Emergency Call Out

The Health Board operates a 24/7 "On-Call" Rota for Emergency Call Outs when a Catholic priest is required to administer the Sacraments. Please keep the sick in your prayers.

BAPTISM

Please remember in your prayers those parents and Godparents preparing for their children's Baptism. Also pray for those St Alban's parishioners who have not as yet had their children baptised. If you are ever privy to such a conversation please remind them that there is NO CHARGE for Baptism, there is no need of special clothes or parties and that the Sacrament of Baptism is celebrated on any day of the week to try and accommodate the family and their life/work patterns. Baptism is for the good of the child's immortal soul. It is not a litmus test of the parent's regularity in parochial life... "Always encourage, never turn away."
